Article title (first few words) and manuscript number

Copyright transfer:

The Author of the Article as specified herein, hereby transfers copyright and assigns to the Association for Research in Otolaryngology (ARO) all rights, title and interest that the Author may have, or may at any time be found to have (for United States Government employees to the extent transferable) in and to the Article and any revisions or versions thereof, including, but not limited to, the sole right to print, publish, and sell the Article throughout the World in all languages and media.

This assignment shall be deemed in effect if and when the Article is accepted for publication.

Should the Article contain any material protected by the copyright of others, the Author will deliver to the ARO written permission from the copyright owner to reproduce such material in the Article.

The Author represents and warrants that he/she is the author and proprietor of the Article, that he/she has not granted or assigned any rights in the Article to any other person or entity, that the Article is copyrightable, that it does not infringe upon any copyright, trademark, or patent, that it does not invade the right of privacy or publicity of any person or entity, that it does not contain any libelous matter, that all statements asserted as facts are true based upon reasonable research for accuracy and that, to the best of the Author's knowledge, no formula, procedure, or prescription contained in the Article would cause injury if used or followed in accordance with the instructions and/or warnings contained in the Article.

The Author will indemnify the ARO against any costs, expenses or damages that the ARO may incur or for which the ARO may become liable as a result of any breach of these warranties. These representations and warranties may be extended to third parties by the ARO.

Authors' guarantees:

The undersigned authors affirm the following:

1) The manuscript contains original material that has not and will not be submitted elsewhere, except as an abstract of less than 400 words, until it has been considered by JARO.

2) All authors have contributed to the work and are familiar with the primary data; each has read the final manuscript, and approved its contents.

3) All applicable principles of scientific integrity, including ethical treatment of human subjects and humane treatment of animals, have been followed. The manuscript is free of fraud, fabrication, and plagiarism.

4) All funding sources that supported the work are acknowledged. Any conflicts of interest on the part of any authors are revealed in a separate cover letter to the editor-in-chief (e.g. consultancies, stock or other equity interests, or patent-licensing).
